Overview

It's against the law to let a dog be dangerously out of control anywhere, such as:

- in a public place
- in a private place, eg a neighbour's house or garden
- in the owner's home

The law applies to all dogs.

Some types of dogs are banned – see website for list.

Out of control

Your dog is considered dangerously out of control if it:

- injures someone
- makes someone worried that it might injure them

A court could also decide that your dog is dangerously out of control if either of the following apply:

- it attacks someone's animal
- the owner of an animal thinks they could be injured if they tried to stop your dog attacking their animal

As a school, it is not our responsibility to deal with such matters. Any incidents must be reported to the appropriate authority e.g. Police or Dog Warden, for them to deal with as they see fit. If we witness an incident that puts our pupils/school community in any danger we will report it.
