

c@ws is an established company consisting of a qualified Education Welfare Officer (EWO) with more than 20 years' experience in relation to education. c@ws undertakes work with schools, young people, children and their families as well as other agencies to address attendance and welfare concerns.

The company was set up primarily, to bridge the gap left, when Leicestershire County Council withdrew its Attendance Improvement Service and Officers from schools, in 2012.

c@ws provides a focused, committed and supportive service, with our overall aim being to ensure that children gain access to education and attend school regularly in order to fulfil their potential.

c@ws offers a full range of services (a brief outline is listed below), which can be individually tailored to meet your specific needs.

- Regular monitoring of attendance data
- Address attendance below 95%
- Accept referrals which meet the criteria for intervention, e.g. unauthorised absence, holiday in term time, absence due to long term medical condition
- Conduct home visits and school meetings
- Implement "Safe and Well" checks for safeguarding purposes
- Address persistent absence
- Liaise with other agencies such as Social Care, Medical Professionals, CAMHS and the Police
- Provide INSET training
- Review schools attendance policies and procedures
- Provide guidance and advice via phone or email, Monday to Friday
- Prepare cases for legal action
- Attend court
